

Appliances Store

Letter to the User

Quito, August 3, 2021

NullPointers
Software developers
ESPE-DCC
software

-Above Company

FCS - First Computer Services

Sale of electronic products

www.fcs.com.ec

Av. 6 de Diciembre N23-66 and Veintimilla, Edif. Lasso, PB
Quito, Ecuador

In our capacity as developers, the NullPointers Company, I ask you to send a report on the functionality of the proposed project.

No.	Name and surname	Email
0	Fernando Sarmiento	fernandosarm@gmail.com
1

1. What was your first impression of the show?

Somewhat efficient, a simple and understandable interface, but it can continue to improve.

2. Do you think customer-seller communication could be improved?

It is one of the problems that you always have in this sales method, but it has a good inventory distribution and characterization.

3. Is the interface simple and feasible so that the customer understands what they want to sell?

The interface meets the objective we set and fully satisfies the desired expectation.

4. Would you change something about the program?

Perhaps the design, adding more shortcuts, better images and texts.

5. Do you think the products are variable?

At the moment there are only specific products that can satisfy the customer's needs.

6. Is the interface easy to understand?

The interface is simple and very specific.